

Notes on
Movements towards inertia

Direct sun light in the eyes. A sculpture without horizon line.

Burnt Sienna was the name given to an ochre pigment original from a region in Italy where the city of Siena is located.

Solid: a state of matter defined by its structural rigidity and resistance to changes of shape or volume. Its atoms are tightly bound to each other in a fixed spatial order, either geometric or irregular. We try to see the bones of the built structures move, but they are very slow.

Bike rides at night. Quick reflections and blurry volumes under low illumination.

Their eyes were dry from the wind and the landscape was dry from —